

OFFICER KILLS BEAUTY OF COURT

Princess Di Trigona, Lady-in-Waiting, Victim of Murderer.

SCANDAL IS REVEALED

Queen Helena Faints When She Is Told of Tragedy.

Rome, March 2.—Princess Di Trigona, a lady in waiting to Queen Helena, niece of Marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and cousin of Prince Di Scordia, Secretary of State in the Foreign Office, was murdered today in a small hotel in this city by Lieutenant Baron Paterno, a cavalry officer, who then shot himself. Paterno was still alive when the room occupied by the couple was entered by hotel employees, but the princess was found lying on a bed dead. She had been stabbed in the neck and death was almost instantaneous.

Was Court Beauty.

Princess Di Trigona was one of the most beautiful ladies in waiting to the Queen, and her tragic end has caused a tremendous sensation. She was at the court ball on Monday, and attracted more than ordinary attention, as well as general admiration. She had had a disagreement with her husband, which deeply grieved the Queen. Her beauty was every influence to reconcile the couple, but without success. Baron Paterno, who had been in close attendance on the princess for some time past, engaged a room in a small hotel this morning. Soon he was joined by Princess Di Trigona, and they remained together until late afternoon. A waiter passing through the hall heard a pistol shot. An attempt was made to break in the door, but this proved too strong to be forced, and employees entered the room by a window.

The princess, half dressed, lay on a bed in a lake of blood. A dagger had severed the blood vessels in the neck, and she had bled to death. Paterno was stretched out on the floor. There was a bullet wound in his breast. In an evident attempt to commit suicide, but he was still alive, and was quickly removed to other quarters.

Queen Faints at News.

The princess had been summoned to appear before the courts today in extradition proceedings brought by her husband. Both she and Paterno were Sicilians. Last summer the princess was at Saint Moritz with her two daughters, who are seven and four years old, when she received a letter from Paterno saying his debts prevented his joining her. She sent him a check, which he turned over to one of his creditors. The creditor, it is said, instead of cashing the check used it for blackmail purposes against Princess Di Trigona, thus revealing the scandal. It seems that the princess intended a meeting today to be the parting with her lover. When Queen Helena was informed of the tragedy she fainted.

Doctor's Prescription Failed—The Great Kidney Remedy Proves Its Merit.

It gives me great pleasure to say a good word for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root because it has cured me of a severe case of Kidney Trouble. I had suffered for some five years with this trouble, and more especially for the first three months of 1909.

Physicians prescribed for me, but without much success, and any relief obtained was only temporary. I had severe pains in my back, and at no time was I free of pain. When I stooped down it was with some difficulty that I could straighten my body again. I could not lift any weight of consequence without great pain. I would be compelled to arise and give the bladder relief. A friend of mine advised me to take Swamp-Root, whereupon I wrote to Dr. Kilmer for a sample bottle which so benefited me that I was led to believe it would be a great help to me. Accordingly I purchased two bottles of Swamp-Root from Mr. A. P. Perry, my druggist, and the effect has been truly marvelous.

I feel like a new man, and have every reason to believe that I am cured, and that no other medicine could have accomplished so much. Now I can raise a heavy load, can bend my back over my desk all day, and feel none the worse for it. In view of the foregoing facts, I sincerely trust that this testimonial may reach some of those who are suffering after the manner before described, and that it may convince them that the merit of this great medicine should be given a fair trial in their case.

Very truly yours,

TRIAL SET FOR MARCH 6.

Interest in Mysterious Killing of Robt. Wytheville, N. C. March 3.—Following their formal arraignment yesterday, Mrs. Rosa Hayes, charged with the murder of Robert Floyd, the young South Carolina medicine salesman, at Mount Tabor, N. C., on February 4, and her husband, Neill Hayes, and his brother, Lloyd Hayes, indicted as accessories after the fact, appeared in Columbus county Superior Court today, and the trial was definitely set for Monday, March 6.

A special venire of 200 names was drawn over the protest of the counsel for the State, who insisted that 100 would be sufficient. Interest in the mysterious killing increases rather than lessens, on account of the soldier's refusal to divulge the theory upon which the prosecution will be based. Little is known of the nature of the evidence that will be brought out.

Mrs. Hayes, who at first was said to be twenty-two years of age, now claims that she is but seventeen.

FRESHMAN CLASS CLAIMS VICTORY

Richmond College Rats Say They Had Clearly Best of Bout.

DENY THERE WAS HAZING

Authorities of College Will Take No Notice of Humorous Affair.

Members of the freshman class at Richmond College are highly indignant over the report that they were hazed after the freshman banquet given by the class Wednesday night. They not only deny that they were hazed, but state emphatically that they put one over on the upper classmen, and that the jollities which occurred immediately after the banquet were enjoyed by no one so much as the members of the supposedly hazed class.

As a matter of fact, both faculty and students feel that the manner in which the freshmen outwitted the upper classmen, and the eagerness of the high and mighty lords of creation, will tend to foster a college spirit which has been sorely lacking at the local institution for many years.

No Hazing Done.

Dr. F. W. Boatright, president of the college, is unaware that any hazing has been done. The members of the freshman class deny that any was done, and the upper classmen say that whatever was done was done in a spirit of fun and in the hope that the students would get together and understand each other better as a result of the frolic.

"While I have no official knowledge of the affair," said Dr. Boatright last night, "and while I am certain that no official action will be taken by the faculty, as we know of no breach of discipline, two of the members of the classes which went after the freshmen voluntarily came to my home and stated their case. I have every confidence in these young men, and I believe that they have told me the truth, also understand from members of the freshmen class that there was no evidence of hazing."

Fastened Elevator.

That the freshmen outwitted the other men at college seems true. They held their banquet unmolested. They gave it on the second floor of a building in which the only way to reach that floor is by an elevator, and they pulled the elevator up to the third floor of the building and tied it there.

The upper classmen, feeling that the laugh was on them, tried to retaliate in kind. A telephone message was sent to the place at which the banquet was being held, but the man making the call represented himself as a newspaper man before he was invited to come to the feast. Some one must have tipped off the freshmen, for when the supposed newspaper man arrived he still found the elevator anchored on the third floor.

The freshmen banquet is an institution at most colleges, and it is always the bounden duty of the sophomore class to frustrate all attempts at a capital crime, and it is under this indictment that the sophomore class at Richmond College is now smarting. A general order has been issued that all freshmen must have on skull caps by today at noon, and that no fair freshman may enjoy the sartorial privilege of turning up his trousers. Freshmen say they will rebel against the edict of their would-be masters. One particularly brave freshman is sponsor for the following story of the affair:

Tells the Story.

Here is what he says: "As the result of weeks of careful planning and utmost secrecy, the freshmen class of Richmond College held an eminently successful banquet Wednesday night at Cole's 'Guth' Cafe. 'The affair was a great success in every way, and to say that it was greatly enjoyed would be putting it very mildly. In spite of the efforts of the sophs to break things up, we reached the banquet hall promptly at the appointed hour. There an excellent menu was served to us, to which we all did full justice."

"After our gastronomic cravings had been fully satisfied, we listened to a number of intellectual treat, in the shape of bright, witty toasts, and speeches from members of the class and two distinguished members of the faculty who were present."

"After we had filled our goblets to the brim and toasted the eternal health of 1911, we adjourned happily to our homes."

Sophs Get Next.

"By this time the slow-going, stupid sophs had managed to see that there was something up. Immediately their cries of distress and woe rent the air of the college campus. The seniors, juniors and 'post grads' all turned out to see what was the matter with the sophs. The class acknowledged to be the babies of the school. And, in fear, the sophs told the upper classmen of what the freshmen had done; yea, with tears in their eyes (their usual condition) they beseeched aid and protection."

"Now, the upper classmen were touched by their heart-rendering appeals, so they promised their aid, and when the happy, triumphant rats resuming the upper classmen made them for Monday, March 6, and that was absolutely all we did do. And the upper classmen did not force us to do that for we were already singing and dancing from the effects of the banquet."

Denies the Rest.

"As to all that has been told of the upper classmen forcing us to run the gauntlet, kiss each other, etc., it is simply absurd. The truth in a newspaper article printed today is similar to a piece of slightly cooked steak—extremely rare."

"Yes, we acknowledge the upper classmen made us sing and dance. Indeed, when we think of it, 250 upper classmen against twenty-eight rats, we stand in awe, and how our heads in reverence to the bold, courageous upper classmen."

"If we could have our way we would give them each and every one a beautiful solid tin medal in commemoration of their inspiring exhibition of reckless, daredevil bravery! The courageous behavior of the 250 upper classmen makes the honor of a hundred look like 5-cent vaudeville performers."

"As the newspaper said, all the college enjoyed a morning-after—the freshmen because of our signal triumph; the sophs were mourning after their lost laurels."

United Forces.

"And today on the campus the sophs sought to capture the colors which we were proudly displaying. But it was only after the united efforts of the sophs, juniors, seniors, law students and post-grads, that the attempts had any success. And it is whispered that three dear, sweet sophs, who attempted to molest one sturdy son of '14, are now sorrowfully nursing their bruises."

ing their bruised bodies and insulted feelings. "So, to show their pretended superiority, the sophs held a meeting and decided that the 'rats' must wear blue skull caps as a sign of their submission. To this we 'rats' have framed a most potent and interesting reply. The substance of it is that we dare the sophs to relinquish the protection of the upper classmen, and we do also defy the sophs to meet us in the right light, or so useful a man as the one now at Shookoe would never have been dropped. In the end it was decided to give him a job at Riverview, and on account of the light duties it is said to have been a favorable berth."

At Riverview and Oakwood the keepers appoint their men. Some members thought Chairman Bailey had failed to present the matter to the Finance Committee in the right light, or so useful a man as the one now at Shookoe would never have been dropped. In the end it was decided to give him a job at Riverview, and on account of the light duties it is said to have been a favorable berth."

ONE MAN DROPPED

Force at Shookoe Said to Have Little to Do, but Reduction Is Opposed.

There were vigorous times in the Council Committee on General Affairs last night, when it was discovered that the new budget cuts off one of the two men employed at Shookoe Cemetery. It was admitted that old Shookoe is a finished cemetery, that there are practically no burials there, and that the two men hitherto employed have little to do. In fact, it will be hard for the one man left there to find employment, according to some members. But the committee elect the laborers at Shookoe, and on account of the light duties it is said to have been a favorable berth."

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING

Negro Boy Believed to Have Fired Shot Which Struck Young Tyler.

Oscar Butler, a colored boy about sixteen years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Policemen Keisigle and Manoley on the charge of being a suspicious character, suspected of having shot Walter Tyler, a white boy living at 1320 1-2 West Clay Street, Wednesday night. Though Butler denies the charge several boys who were present at the time of the shooting say he is the guilty party.

According to the story, the Tyler boy seems to have been the "innocent bystander," as he was more than half a block from where the shot was fired and had nothing whatever to do with the row that led up to it. It is said that the boy was walking down the street and jostled one of a number of boys collected on the corner. They say that he drew a pistol, telling them that he would "pump some lead into them." When he fired the Tyler boy cried out, and in the excitement the negro escaped. Tyler was struck in the thigh and the wound is said not to be dangerous.

Grounds and Buildings Committee Balks at Price of Playground Property.

Fearing, as Mr. Blake said, that it would be "tarred and feathered" if it adopted a report recommending an appropriation of about $15,000 to buy land over a dump on North Tenth Street for a public playground, the Council Committee on Grounds and Buildings last night sent the paper back to a subcommittee to think it over and to see on what terms the grounds could be rented. Mr. Blake said it was ridiculous to suppose that the city would buy that much property for playgrounds, when there are so many urgent demands for funds.

Several additional laborers were authorized in the various parks as soon as the funds provided in the budget are available, as the spring months are the time for trimming trees and hedges and doing other work about the parks.
